The trainmen naticed that she acted very strangely and reported the fact to the police. had just arrived. She told the officer that she had been vinning in Politicum. Pa., and was on her way to Oakland, Cal., where she owned a quarter of a militon dollars' worth of property and her agent was not conducting the business properly. She was under he impression that some one was pursuing her from Chicago, as she said that unless they could prove to her that they were members of the Odd Feilows or Masonie orders. She had badges from each of these orders and said that she had been told that tey would protect her. Officer Anderson took her to a hotel and left her. After remaining a few hours, she became very nervous and the landlord called on the police to care for her. Chief Canning ed the case over to Sheriff Morgan, who called together with the commissioner of in-sanity and made an investigation. They found that she held a through ticket from Philadelphia to San Francisco, we receipts given her for two weeks board at a hotel in Reading Pa., and also some papers re-garding real estate in Oakland. The commisioners turned her over to the care of Mrs. wife of the janitor of the court house and decided to make inquiries concerning friends. Yesterday it was decided to pur her on board a through train and notify the trainmen of her condition and have her for at the end of her route. Accordingly Sheriff Morgan went with her to Omaha and put her aboard the overland and charged the traitmen to look after her case. He also purchased a tourist crowd and the Tyr sleening car borth ticket for her, that she a hearty welcome. be well provided for to the end of The session will last all next week and The ses tion showed that this young woman had been placed in Lody's care by a confiding lather, who wanted Lody to look after her while she learned the tailoring trade in Joptin. This young woman became his confederate in crime, and their relations were en-tirsly the opposite of the life Lody was sup-posed by everyone to be living. When he ook the bill out of the fatal No. 3 he had an envelope addressed to her at the town where she lived, and all he had to do was to nclose the stolen money in it and then send t in the go-back mail. Of course no stolen would be found on him, and he knew t. When she learned of his arrest she im-nediately destroyed the bill, but with all scheming shrewdness he was trapped

"Is there a man in this audience," fiercely exclaimed a female lecturer, "that has done anything to lighten the burden resting on his wife's shoulder? What do you know of woman's work? Is there a man here, she ontinued, folding her arms and looking over the audience with superb scorn, "that has ever got up in the morning, leaving his tired, wormant wife to enjoy her slumbers, gone quickly down stairs, made the fire, noked his own breakfast, sewed the missing buttons on the children's clothes, farned the 'amily stockings, scoured the pots, filled the lamps, swept the kitchen and done all the rest, if necessary day after day uncom-plainingly? If there is such a man in the audience, let him rise up! I should like to see him!" And in the rear of the hall a mild looking man in spectacles, in obedience the summons, timidly arose. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. It was the first time he ever had a chance to assert himself.
